Papers and Jay Casanova were both present when she forged the lease. I have had numerous discussions with him about this.

Maureen has admitted to me that she has taken money from outsider investors. I have corroborated with papers that she has taken this money and went shopping, did a $17k table spend and spent a lot of it on Kai.

Subject: Re: Urgent need for Eviction evidence

Paul Brown was in the room and is the responsible partner in this business and he said they came in at 12:50 something and he pulled the POS system and the last drink that was sold before they read the place was 1250 something not after 1 o'clock which means the police department is capable and liable for an illegal shutdown!!!

Ask our experienced and kosher nightclub operator Paul Brown what happened

Bottom line is they had it out for Baby like we were warned. We asked baby not to show up at night because we get shut down and if our landlord of across the street take away 35 year lease he refused to cooperate and she went there anyway With the police came at 12:55 she was in the back office and she chose to come out and start snapping at them which got them pissed so no wonder they arrested her She's her own worst enemy

I told her she feels obligated to show up because she's sick in the head about her nightclub that she's obsessed to own then come at 2 AM with a week when it's too late to ruin the night But she disobeyed my orders and furthermore Paul Brown told her the same damn thing.

Now she dug her own grave

She Needs to be exterminated like a cock cockroach now

She has put the entertainment complex business unit on life-support

It might not only fuck us going forward it might fuck the landlord going forward when he or if he ever takes back the property and it's stuck with 20,000 ft.² of unusable night club space

Anything that we do against her it must be on writing explaining that it's her fault

She disobeyed us by showing up she disobeyed us by putting on hip-hop parties she disobeyed us by allowing nonsense like no insurance and no high security company and cocaine in the safe and drunk and drugs workers and paying people in cash and buying the legal SLA alcohol not from SLA approve vendor but directly from Costco and for that matter allowing underage people into the nightclub and for that matter operating it after party after 4 AM and for that matter operating illegal nightclubs from 12 PM till 4 AM and for that matter Allowing smoking in the nightclub including self smoking and for that in the night smoking marijuana in the nightclub and she was doing that herself. Taxation is right up there... She didn't pay sales tax and any other contacts or revenue that she kind of stole by directing money directly to her bank account and sometimes turning off POS and making people paying cash and she stole that cash For the Moore she put on a party a couple months ago and her ex-husband was collecting her nails from people waiting online to get in for free and quickly and she was escorting them into the hotel entrance that gets to the nightclub so you have to go through security check and low and behold there was knives and guns

She has violated 13 rules with SLA and only 12 to begin with. It could never get worse

It's the worst example I've ever heard of a fuck up and I think it's basically like the show on Broadway called the producers which is originally called springtime for Hitler and it was set up to be the worst show ever so we fail the first day and it ended up being a big success. I think the same things going on here. She violate anything and everything just to see how She thinks she's Donald Trump who could walk down fifth Avenue shoot anybody to get away with it She thinks she's invisible because she's part of the hell Kitchen ghetto mob since she's

From what I understand several bartenders were arrested as well. At 1:15 because they disobeyed the expiry of the liquor permit as of 1:00 am. This is why PJ and I warned against disobeying the permit. It's not just a fine you can pay and get away with. This further exposes the property with the Community Board.

Sincerely

Magnus Hagen
